Expert in modern programming languages.

Experience with Blockchain developing.

Experience with writing, debugging and deploying Smart Contracts.

Experienced with software development lifecycle.

Cryptocurrency trading and using financial services.

Technical knowledge of standards and ecosystems.

Knowledge of Blockchain structures.

Experienced with CloudComputing and DevOps-CloudNative tools.

To implement decentralized ledgers and configure Full/MasterNode.

Blockchain development going with Substrate and Rust-Lang.

(Do not worry if you work on Ethereum since there are strategies for compiling Solidity(2014-2018) and interoperability Polkadot(Rust Smart Contracts 2018-2023) & Eth.)

I have been working on the Blockchain ecosystem as a CryptoTrader and Blockchain developer for about 3 years. Over 10 years of experience in developing, deploying, analyzing, and implementing in the field of Cloud-native, Web, and Software engineers. Expertise in the architecture of infrastructure and interest in the distributed systems. Capable of learning new programming languages and edge technologies. Good communication, problem-solving, documentation, and analytical.

* Capable of learning new skills and concepts quickly.

* Effective Relationships with others.

* Features including Research, Creative, Analyze, Self-Org.

* Highly organized, motivated, confident.

* Graduated M.Sc In The Field Of Information Technology.

(Using ACO Algorithm to Improve Performance for Container-based Scientific Workflows)

I have worked for companies that were B2B or B2C. I have developed projects based on the skills mentioned in the resume, which did not need to be introduced on the personal website because the material and intellectual rights of the works must be preserved. I have worked for five of companies of inside the country(three ways high scale) in the field of support, development and consulting. So if I will take accepted by you I will bring home the bacon with details of my work experiences and skills.

When I decided to work internationally(or decentralized), I spent a lot of time learning again.You can see the prototypes of the works done on GitHub. You can access my resume and other records in more detail in the "AboutUs" section of the website.

I think "Web3.0" is a hub for connecting and putting together different components and peoples. For now, I have worked on Smart-Contract, Business models, and many open source projects on Metaverse and NFTs for getting an idea. That needs more research and the possibility of implementations.

It is important for a developer to be able to understand the business. For example, maybe someone is a good programmer who wants to work in the field of DeFi, so isn't it necessary for him to know the processes of this field?

Is information technology only limited to coding?

Used BOTs and Tools:

(There many variety of patterns and references that I Bookmarked and tried it)

Work on Dex BOTs.

Staking based on xPOS on complex networks like Kusama.

Fundamental research on high potencial Projects IDOs, IEOs.

Configure and using Pro-BOTs on dedicated servers.

Experience on 3Commas, and some Cex trading platforms.

Price Action Trading and classical:

Support & Resistance Strategy.

Channel Breakout Strategy.

Divergence Strategy.

Moving Stop loss with Momentum Strategy.

Triangle Cups, Dimond and Wyckoffian Patterns.

Candle Sticks Patterns and Pin Bars.

Identify Market Trends

Setting alerts on price and indicators in tradingview.

Confluences- Important Price Action Concept...

" I made templates containing oscillators and indicators in the TradingView and using them always."

Fundamental Analysis:

Analysis based on Cryptoquant and etc.

Monitoring live analysis on-chain websites.

Setting conditional alerts on on-chain indicators.
